Judging the Novel

Guidelines and Criteria.

Technique 20%	Marks
Does the author present his/her work with a distinctive and original voice ?
Is the story told in a clear and focused manner?
Is the pacing appropriate for the unfolding story? Does the rhythm work to sustain interest?
To what extent does the author balance showing versus telling to make the flow of the story active and engaging?

Comments:

Plot, Situation and Conflict 20%	Marks
Has the author constructed convincing and compelling storyline/s and/or situations?
Is there sufficient conflict (internal and/or external) to sustain the reader's interest? And does it arise from the characters' motivations and goals?
Does each scene have a clear and necessary relationship with the scenes that precede and follow it?
Is/are the plot and/or situation/s well handled?

Comments:

Characterisation and Dialogue 20%	Marks
Does each major character exhibit a unique voice and distinguishing personality traits and is this voice consistent and appropriate given his/her role in the narrative?

Are the main characters multidimensional, with evidence (or at least hints) that they have weaknesses as well as strengths? And do they behave, speak, and interact appropriately for the time period and genre of the novel? (Note that this criterion need not be applied to characters that are clearly intended to be prototypes and caricatures).
Are the various point of views in accordance with the narrative strategy?
Do the dialogue and narrative provide characterization and move the story and/or relationships forward?
Is the dialogue natural or stylistically appropriate (that is, not stilted or overly explanatory)?

Comments:

Mechanics 20%	Marks
Does the novel open with a compelling hook that makes you want to continue reading?
Do the introductory pages establish the narrative setting in an artful and well-balanced manner?
Does the rhythm of the prose enhance the meaning?
Is the publication free of typographical, spelling, punctuation and grammatical errors?
Are the dominant themes well developed?

Comments:

Overall Impression 20%	Marks
Does the author manage to concretize his ideas through the characters and their actions and not through a didactic voice?
Is the usage of language good, fresh and innovative?

Does this story engage your emotions and do you feel stimulated and enlightened by the experience of reading this story?
