What are the MBF Translation grants?

The Malta Book Fund Translation grants form part of the National Book Council's strategy to boost the export and international dissemination of Maltese publications, and to open up Malta's literary landscape to works which have as yet not been translated into the Maltese language.

The Translation Grants section of the Malta Book Fund is divided into two categories:

- Category 1 - Translations of Maltese books
- Category 2 - Translations into Maltese

Category 1 - Translations of Maltese books

The category supports applications for translation projects of Maltese works (published in the Maltese or English language in Malta with a Maltese ISBN) into any other language, with an annual allocated budget of €40,000.

Works which are going to be translated through a bridge language translation but which were originally written in the Maltese language will be considered, but priority will be given to works translated from original Maltese editions.

Category 2 - Translations into Maltese

The category supports applications for the translation of works into Maltese of works originally published in any other language. The annual allocated budget for category 2 is €15,000.

Both categories of the programme address the translation of the following types of original works:

- literature (fiction, poetry, drama, biographies, literary nonfiction and graphic novels)
- works of research including academic and scholarly books (monographs, edited collections, critical editions, researched exhibition and gallery catalogues containing analytical material that is the result of research.)

The original work needs to have been already published and identified by its ISBN.

What are the objectives of the MBF Translation grants?

The objectives of the grants are:

- To increase the visibility of Maltese creative and academic writing on international platforms.
- To help creative and academic writing in the Maltese language access international markets and audiences.
- To support Maltese translators in bringing international works of literature and research to a Maltese-reading public.

What do the MBF Translation grants support?

The scheme offers grants to eligible translators or publishers for the co-financing of the translation of published books to and from the Maltese language.

The translation grants may support up to 100% of the translation fees or up to a maximum of € 5,000 at a rate of €0.10 per word. Applicants must provide a budget breakdown of the project, with proofs of official quotes.

Each application will be assessed individually on the basis of the criteria of the grant.

Budget breakdown

In order to support your proposal, provide copies of any relevant quotations that can give an indication of estimated costs. Whenever quotations cannot be supplied, you can provide a breakdown of estimated costs (see APP III for a budget breakdown table), based on standard expenditure for such translation projects. The budget must include amounts relating to secured, unsecured and other planned revenues. The unsecured amount requested from the fund must be quantified and allocated as the 'Amount Requested' from the fund.

NB: Every budget must include both expenditure and income through other sources of funding. Other sources of funding and sponsorships (including sponsorships in kind) must be supported by relevant documentation.

Please make sure you read the eligibility and adjudication criteria for each grant carefully before building your proposal and applying for funds.

Please state whether you have already received public funding in the past and list the dates, amount specifications and any other relevant details about the funds received.

The Evaluation Process

Once received, applications will be first screened for eligibility. Applications which are not eligible in terms of the procedure stipulated by these guidelines will not be processed further and will not undergo evaluation. Eligible applications will be passed on to an independent adjudication board who will evaluate the projects.

The grants will be awarded to successful applicants following a competitive adjudication process according to established adjudication criteria.

Each criterion is allocated a specific number of marks. In order to be considered for funding, projects have to obtain at least 60 marks.

Nevertheless, the evaluation session and funding decisions depend on the level of competition and on the availability of the funds. Obtaining 60 marks or more does not automatically mean that you will be receiving the funds.

The order of classification of the projects, according to the marks allocated by the evaluators, will be published online within 4 weeks from the application deadline. Only the names of the successful projects will be published.

The adjudication board may require clarifications from the applicant during the evaluation sessions; however, being contacted by the board does not mean that that project will necessarily be funded. All correspondence will be sent by the National Book Council's Fund Administrator.

Eligibility Criteria

Applications are first screened in terms of eligibility and are to be complete and include: the project description, a budget breakdown and estimated timeframe.

Project proposal

As part of the application, the applicant must write a brief description of the translation project not exceeding 1,000 words, which should include a description of its cultural value for the Maltese publishing market/literary export value. The project must not be potentially viable and self-sustainable via already established routes. Translation of coffee-table books, musical scores and books based solely on imagery or photography are excluded from the scheme.

The brief should explain why the project requires funding.

Project costing

The application should include a justification of the funding provided in the costing and a budget breakdown of the project. Official documentation must be submitted in support of the budget breakdown of the translation costs. These can be broken down as follows:

- Translation rates
- Translator/s' fees
- Proofreading
- Editing
- Foreign agents' fees

Timeframes

The publication date for each winning project will be negotiated with the National Book Council upon the release of the winners' list and established within the beneficiaries contract. An estimated completion date of the translation should be mentioned in the project brief and should not exceed 18 months from the date indicated in the beneficiary's contract.

Ineligible projects

Applications for translation grants in the following areas are ineligible for funding:

- textbooks, instruction manuals;
- yearbooks;

- works whose primary objective is party propaganda;
- Coffee-table books, musical scores and books based solely on imagery or photography
- modules or translation work within a taught course
- expenses already covered by public cultural organisations, or another public funding programme managed or co-managed by the National Book Council, or any other public agency, government department or Ministry;
- retrospective costs;
- incomplete applications (please refer to documents checklist below).

Ineligible proposals in terms of the eligibility criteria listed above shall not be processed further and shall not undergo evaluation.

Adjudication Criteria

Each eligible application is evaluated against the adjudication criteria established in these guidelines and regulations. The criteria cater for as many different initiatives as possible, giving a chance to compete to all projects that prove to be of cultural value based on the evaluation of the adjudication board.

- ➡ The adjudication board may decide to fully or partially fund a particular project or application.
- ➡ The adjudication board will base its judgment on the strength and completeness of each application.
- ➡ The Adjudicating Board may discriminate against applications so as to set funding targets for grants according to certain priorities that the adjudication board deems to be of importance in the current circumstances of the book market.
- ➡ The adjudication board's decision is final and non-contestable.
- ➡ Applicants can submit more than one application under the same call, however only one of the applications can be funded per session.
- ➡ Preference will be given to translation projects with a planned publication process in place. Moreover, in the case of category 1, Translations of Maltese books, all plans should be strictly directed at publishing with a foreign ISBN. In category 2, Translations into Maltese, preference will be given to applicants publishing with a local ISBN.
